

THE QUEENSLAND DROVER

arranged for SSATB choir, piano and violin
by Sandra Milliken

from the Anthology ON A DISTANT SHORE

WELCOME TO ON A DISTANT SHORE

This arrangement is an extract from the 2-part anthology “On a Distant Shore”, a collection of Australian folk songs arranged for choir by Sandra Milliken. The anthology was commissioned in 2022 by the Queensland Kodály Choir, to create a legacy of Australian Choral Music.

The following are some general performance notes that have relevance to all pieces in the collection. Additional, more specific performance notes for this arrangement are included on the inside back cover.

Solos

Conductors should feel free to allocate solo passages to one singer, to a small group of several voices or to the whole section – whatever best suits your choral resources.

Instrumental Accompaniment

In many instances, guitar chords have been included with the arrangements. Additional instruments could also be incorporated, including bush bass, lagerphone (monkey stick) and drum.

Several of the arrangements include instrumental solos for C instruments (flute, tin whistle, violin, harmonica) in keeping with performance traditions. These instruments are all interchangeable.

Piano/Keyboard Accompaniment

Some of the accompanied arrangements contain an “a cappella” section. The optional piano accompaniment may be used in these sections, at the discretion of the conductor.

Key

Many folk tunes have a wide vocal range, so some titles are provided in two keys. This may assist in accommodating changing voices and catering for the vocal resources within school and community choirs.

Text and Interpretation

Certain of the lyrics in a few of the titles have been modified to avoid terms which, today, some singers/listeners may find inappropriate or be uncomfortable with. Additional lyrics (some from other versions, some newly written) have been added to “round out” the story line in a few of the titles.

In performance, always pay particular attention to the enunciation and expressive use of consonants in order to best convey the story to your audience.

THE QUEENSLAND DROVER

PERFORMANCE NOTES

Sometimes known as The Overlanders, this song reminds the listener of the well-known life of a Queensland Drover. The song has been in circulation in several versions with a number of different tunes since about the mid-1800s.

The song tells of the life and times of the drovers (overlanders) who made long and lonesome journeys across eastern Australia (from the Gulf of Carpentaria through to Bass Strait) driving large mobs of cattle to new grazing areas or from cattle stations to railheads that lead to markets. They were a tough breed of men, from many nations and from many walks of life, who were often regarded somewhat as social outcasts by the squatters and the townsfolk whose paths they crossed on their long journeys across the country.

The chorus is a toast to the overlanders.

SSATB

This arrangement is scored for violin, but a flute can be substituted if necessary.

In verse 5 (Bar 67), there is a solo opportunity for Bass or Tenor; however, this could be acted out for the last phrase by shouting the words instead of singing.

The score also contains an “a cappella” section from Bar 75 to Bar 83, where the optional piano accompaniment can be used, at the discretion of the conductor.

The piece may be accompanied by guitar.

In performance, pay particular attention to the enunciation and expressive use of consonants in order to best convey the story.

SSA and 2-PART

This arrangement is scored for violin, but a flute can be substituted if necessary.

In verse 2 (Bar 23) there is an optional solo for treble voice. At verse 5 (Bar 67), there is another optional solo and an opportunity for acting out the last phrase by shouting the words instead of singing them.

The score also contains an “a cappella” section from Bar 75 to Bar 83, where the optional piano accompaniment can be used, at the discretion of the conductor.

The piece may be accompanied by guitar.

In performance, pay particular attention to the enunciation and expressive use of consonants in order to best convey the story.
